Symmes Hospital Given Oxygen Tent

Formal presentation of a new oxygen tent — the gift of the Woman's Aid Association of the Symmes Hospital — to the Arlington hospital was made Tuesday morning at the January meeting of the association held at the hospital.

Mrs. Arthur J. Mansfield, president, made the presentation and Arthur O. Yeames, a member of the board of trustees of the hospital, accepted the gift. Dr. William McCarty of the medical staff of the Symmes Hospital explained and demonstrated the many uses of the new equipment and brought out that the oxygen tent had already been used with gratifying results.

Woman Assaulted in East Arlington

Panic-stricken after she had been assaulted by a man at the corner of Massachusetts ave. and Windsor st., about 4 o'clock Friday morning, a Cambridge woman ran to the Alewife Brook parkway where she boarded an outbound bus.

Informed of the attack, Arlington police questioned the woman and later turned her over to Cambridge police who escorted her home.

The man ran towards the parkway and Broadway after attempting to criminally attack her, the woman said.

The board of selectmen on Monday evening drew the name of George N. Humphrey of 5 Hawthorne ave., to serve on the jury in the second criminal session at East Cambridge starting Feb. 10.

School Board, Teachers Meet

In a letter to the Arlington School Committee, the Arlington Council of Parent-Teachers Associations has offered its full support in the matter of raising salaries of Arlington school teachers.

"Because of the teachers' inability to meet the high cost of living, a breaking down of morale is becoming evident," the PTA Council stated.

Meanwhile individual Parent-Teachers' Associations this week sent similar letters to the School Committee pledging their support of the teachers' cause following meetings at which the salary issue was discussed. Roger Warner, Arlington High School teacher, appeared as spokesman for the teachers at the meeting.

C. of C. Directors Discuss Plans to Benefit Merchants

Further plans to promote the civic and commercial welfare of Arlington were discussed at a meeting of the board of directors of the Arlington Chamber of Commerce on Tuesday evening. Walter C. Gutzmann presided.

Benjamin F. Hickey, prominent member of the Cambridge Chamber of Commerce, and Arlington resident, was present and advanced several valuable suggestions. President Gutzmann called upon all selfishness and work with the Chamber. Not only will they benefit personally, thereby, but will contribute to the general welfare of the town, he said.

Before the meeting closed, a special committee, headed by Charles B. Perham, was appointed to draw up a questionnaire which will be forwarded to all members of the Chamber in which they will be urged to express their views.

Meanwhile, plans are being completed for the February meeting of the Chamber, at the Arlington Academy of Music hall on Tuesday evening, Feb. 4, at which time a representative of the Internal Revenue department will speak on the preparation of income tax returns. All Arlington merchants are invited and they may make their dinner reservations with Isabel C. Gratto, secretary.

Merchant Marine Vets to Organize New Post

A mass meeting will be held at Cypress Building, 40 Prospect st., Central sq., Cambridge next Sunday at 2 o'clock for the purpose of forming Post 27 of the World War Veterans of the U. S. Merchant Marine.

All war service seamen present will be formed of the progress being made in regards to the Seamen's War Service Act and other legislation. Merchant mariners of both World Wars are urged to attend.

Red Cross Workroom Still A Busy Spot

The Red Cross work rooms at 661 Massachusetts ave. was a busy place on Monday despite the bad weather as workers responded to a hurry call for baby sleepers for layettes. Thirty of these garments were made that day.

Three of these nightgowns, a dress for christening, and a pretty feather-stitched blanket are included with other things in layettes given through Red Cross Home Service to expectant mothers. The Red Cross has more sewing work to be done now than during the war years and the need for sewers is great. Red Cross production rooms are open every Monday and all are welcome to help.

The sewing group at the Unitarian Church under Miss Emily Norton and the Baptist Church group under Mrs. E. Stanley Beck are sewing diligently every Tuesday. Mrs. Edward Kittredge's group meets on Wednesday at the Red Cross work rooms and Mrs. James Kidder's group at her home on Thursday. Mrs. Charles G. Anthony's group makes 1,000 gauze sponges a week. Other surgical dressings are made at the work rooms on Monday for Massachusetts General Hospital.

Recently there has also been an appeal for workers to go into Boston and work at Metropolitan Red Cross Headquarters, sewing buttons on snow suits and assembling cut garments.

On Tuesdays and Thursdays the work rooms are used as an office by Mrs. John Nichols, the new Red Cross nutritionist in the schools.

Dimes March Aids Arlington Victims

More contributions to the March of Dimes will be needed if Arlington is to meet its quota before the drive ends, W. Dale Barker, Arlington chairman, stated this week.

At the same time, Mr. Barker called attention to the vast amount of good that is being done by the Foundation for Infantile Paralysis right here at home.

Besides assisting in the payment for hospitalization, braces, nurses, doctors and clinical treatment, a clinic is staffed, equipped, and maintained in Arlington for the benefit of Arlington patients who need post-hospital treatment.

Every Tuesday afternoon at the Visiting Nurses rooms on Court st., from 8 to 15 receive the benefit of advice and encouragement from Mrs. Dronney of the staff of the Harvard Infantile Paralysis Commission, which is a part of the Children's Hospital. Last year, 344 were treated in Arlington.

Also, 106 visits were made to the control clinic at the Children's Hospital.

To men or women interested in physical therapy, there are scholarships available in schools approved by the American Medical Association.

Local chapters of the Foundation are staffed by volunteer workers who carry on a year-round fight against infantile paralysis. They are ready at all times for outbreaks of "polio" and cooperate with state and county rehabilitation agencies by referring to them handicapped polio cases.

Fifty percent of the money raised goes to the National Foundation whose work is well-known, the balance to the local chapters—all bent on fighting the dreaded polio.

Arlington Woman's Club Enjoys Interesting Meeting

An introduction to the Brahman life of Boston during the early part of the present century was given to the Arlington Woman's Club last Thursday afternoon in the Robbins Town Hall, when Miss Emily Brown, graduate of Emerson College of Oratory and former holder of the Chair of English Speech at the University of Richmond, presented a review of the play, "The Late George Apley," by John P. Marquand.

The keen perception or human nature which was shown by Miss Brown in her character delineations, together with her splendid diction, mark her as an outstanding artist. Miss Brown was introduced by Mrs. C. Wesley Johnson, chairman of literature and drama.

Mrs. Frank P. Swett, chairman of music, announced that tickets are now available for the morning musicals to be held March 5 at the home of Mrs. Donald R. MacJanet, 208 Pleasant st.; March 19, at the home of Mrs. William A. Muller, 231 Massachusetts ave.; and April 2, at the home of Mrs. James A. Bailey, 14 Wellington st. Tickets may be secured from members of the music committee.

Mrs. Robert M. Rice gave a report on the activities of the Girls Club, which is under the direction of the youth planning committee, Mrs. Gordon R. Williams, chairman. Classes in sewing, knitting, cooking and dramatics are some of the opportunities offered the girls. Mrs. Rice also outlined some of the future programs the club is to enjoy.

Mrs. Paul A. Heeger of the advisory board for the Arlington Junior Woman's Club, also gave an outline of the programs for this group, which meets the first and third Monday evenings of the month at the home of Mrs. William A. Muller. Mrs. Heeger stated that the theme of the club is to teach the girls friendship, cooperation and civic responsibility. Their particular project is the work they do for the blind people of Arlington.

Mrs. Joseph A. Keefe, chairman of legislation and citizen training, called to the attention of the club members the urgent need of increasing the salaries of school teachers, especially those in Arlington.

Mrs. Arthur J. Mansfield, first vice-president, announced the International Relations Conference held in Milton on Monday. The theme was, "We Look at the World."

Mrs. York Praises Club
Mrs. A. Chesley York, first vice-president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs was a guest of honor at this meeting. She extended greetings from the Federation. In addressing the members she said that each club reflects its leadership, and complimented the Arlington Club on its leaders and on the work that is being done in the youth groups, stating that the junior groups are the hope of tomorrow.

The art corners were arranged by Mrs. Torsten H. Reenstierna, chairman of the art committee, and by Mrs. Charles Avakian. In

Mrs. Reenstierna's display were a choice Wedgewood pin and a Wedgewood pitcher, belonging to Mrs. James W. Kidder, which had been brought to her from England by her son. Also in Mrs. Kidder's English collection were a silver urn, a copper luster teapot and a large Staffordshire china dog. Mrs. Walter A. Coffey displayed several pieces of beautiful American china and a delightful old paley shawl. Mrs. Reenstierna, to demonstrate that are need not necessarily be stamped "Improved", nor involve great expenditures of money, displayed inexpensive but artistic "Made in America" figurines, pieces of china, silverware and jewelry, showing that works of art may be included in all homes.

Mrs. Avakian's art corner exhibited articles from Russia and China. In this collection were, a lady's handmade Russian costume belonging to Mrs. Elliott P. Barker, Chinese articles displayed by Mrs. William A. Collier, which included a metal figure of Buddha, a cloisonne perfume bottle and tray, a carved marble figurine and an embroidered scarf; a hand carved ivory life ball, the property of Mrs. Augustus Wagner; figurines and a copper teapot belonging to Mary Hubbard Dick; and a beautiful old brass samovar and tray from Russia, belonging to Mrs. Avakian.

Mrs. Norman J. Griffin, president over the business meeting. She commented on the art corners and stated that it was good to have examples of art in every home — not just museum pieces, but inexpensive pieces to be used every day, such as those displayed by Mrs. Reenstierna. Mrs. Griffin also mentioned that the collection of paintings by Mrs. Charles Avakian is still on exhibition in the gallery of the Robbins Memorial Library.

The Prudential committee, Mrs. Stanley R. Ryerson, chairman, used attractive begonia plants as stage decorations for this program, which was presented by the literature and drama committee.

State Housing Board May Upset Building Rules

Those who are prevented from building a home or remodeling an existing structure by local zoning laws or ordinances may appeal to the State Emergency Housing Committee, which has the power to waive these local provisions, Philip Nichols, chairman of the Massachusetts State Housing Board brought out during a broadcast over station WMEX on Wednesday night.

"The 1946 Legislature established an Emergency Housing Commission which has the power to waive any provisions of a local building or zoning law," explained Nichols.

Many prospective home builders, or those planning extensive alterations, have been thwarted by local authorities in many instances because their plans did not exactly suit local agencies. As building materials become more available there have been increasing complaints about the attitude of zoning and building official in certain cities and towns, it was learned.

"When a person wishes to build or remodel a house and finds that he cannot do so because of some technical provision of local law, he may appeal to this commission, and if relief can be granted without injury to the public safety or to the best interests of the neighborhood, the owner is allowed to go ahead, notwithstanding the local regulations."

Headquarters of the commission are at 20 Somerset st., Boston.

Pre-School PTA Forum Due Tuesday

A joint meeting of the Pre-School Parent Teachers units will be held at the Junior Library Hall next Tuesday evening at 7:45.

Mrs. Robert McAnaul, Massachusetts State Pre-School chairman, will be the moderator at a panel discussion with speakers on good manners, religion, hygiene and safety. Refreshments will be served.

DeMolay Plans for Anniversary

Boston Chapter Order of DeMolay is making plans for the celebration of the 25th year of DeMolay in New England, which will be held in the Masonic Apartments, Davis Square, West Somerville.

Boston Chapter is the oldest chapter in Massachusetts and was instituted Feb. 13, 1922. Since that time there have been many chapters organized throughout the state.

On Saturday, Feb. 8, there will be a banquet, followed by entertainment and dance. Group attendance is planned for Sunday, Feb. 9, at the College Ave. Methodist Church, West Somerville. On Monday, Feb. 10, the degrees of the order will be conferred, with both past and present officers participating.

It has been a big problem trying to locate all of the past members of Boston Chapter, and if any former members, who now reside in Arlington, who have not received a formal notice of the celebration, are requested to communicate with either George N. Fountas, 13 Melvin st., or Kermit C. Marsh, 224 Powder House blvd., both of Somerville.

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Cushman W. Phillips of Lexington, announce the engagement of their daughter, Frances Cecilia, to Edward Rice Willett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin W. Willett of this town.

Tech Professor to Seek Election to School Board

Dr. Richard H. Bolt, 34 Temple st., this week announced that he is a candidate for the three year term on the School Committee.

The candidate, whose decision to run came at the insistence of a public group, has been a resident of Arlington for the past six years. He is associate professor of physics at MIT and director of the acoustics laboratory there.

After his graduation from the University of California at Berkeley, Dr. Bolt did a great deal of post graduate work in education before engaging in highly specialized studies in the field of acoustics. He has studied at colleges and universities here and abroad and is a Phi Beta Kappa and Sigma Xi.

During the war Dr. Bolt carried on research for the armed forces and this work took him to the British Isles where he spent several months.

In announcing his candidacy, Dr. Bolt stated that, as the father of three children, all of whom will be attending public schools here, he is vitally interested in having Arlington's one of the best school systems in the country. He is a home owner and taxpayer.

Francis J. Higgins of 86 Marathon st., announced his candidacy for the office. Mr. Higgins is a Town Meeting Member from Precinct 1 and initiated the petition for the restoration of Elevated bus service along Broadway at night. He has also taken an interest in youth activities.

He told the NEWS he would file nomination papers today.

Pierce PTA Supports Teachers' Pay Raise

The Pierce School PTA at its meeting last Thursday evening voted to support the Teachers' Club in its request for a salary increase for school teachers.

The following recommendation was read by the president, Mrs. Ervin E. Gross, Jr.:

"It is recommended that the Pierce Parent Teacher Association urge definite action on the teacher pay-raise suggested, by the Teachers' Club and that we offer our full support."

A delegate from the Teachers' Club spoke to the group and the question was discussed. Following the discussion, it was voted unanimously to support the above recommendation.

Mrs. Raymond McKeever of the Crosby School spoke in behalf of the March of Dimes for 1947. She stressed the great need of this very worthwhile project and of the work that is being done.

Ralph Gerbrands, Jr., played three piano selections, "Rhapsody in Blue," "Man I Love" and "Waltz in C Sharp."

Mrs. W. G. Warren of Acton spoke on, "How Arts and Crafts Can Help the School Child."

Miss Phelan's room won the attendance prize.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Edward Richards and her hospitality committee, assisted by the mothers of the Fourth Grade.

Airmen in Tribute to Devastated Town

Fifty air force men from all sections of Massachusetts, who were shot down over Normandy during the war, will join with American and French dignitaries in a program honoring the devastated town of Saint-Lo, in France, at a rally to be held in Symphony Hall, Boston, next Wednesday.

The rally heralds an $85,000 fund drive in this state by the State Committee of American Aid to France in an effort to help rebuild the children's ward of the Saint-Lo Hospital which American forces destroyed in their Normandy breakthrough in 1944. The 50 aviators, in many cases, were concealed and cared for by the French peasants and underground, and were aided in escaping to Spain.

The aviators include Henry C. Rowland of Pleasant st., and Frederick C. Kelley of 26 Bellevue road, Arlington.

ARLINGTON MAY BE NEXT

Arlington may be one of "at least nine" in Massachusetts where a major disaster will strike this year — either flood, fire or explosion — Harrison G. Reynolds, general chairman of the 1947 Red Cross Fund for Greater Boston, disclosed this week.

The figure is based on the mathematical regularity with which disasters have heretofore struck this area, and was compiled in Washington.

The Bay State has suffered 52 calamities of major proportions since 1940, and these include such catastrophes as the Coconut Grove disaster, floods and the Onset explosion of last fall, not the countless hundreds of smaller disasters to which the Red Cross has responded in this area.

Reynolds gave out the figures as the 1947 Red Cross Fund drive in Metropolitan Boston approaches, which this year will be staged from February 27 to March 26.

Nationally, the Red Cross spent close to $2,000,000 on disaster relief last year alone. It served 136,671 victims of 271 disasters in 46 states.

Domestic relief work was only a minor phase of the work the Red Cross will be called upon to perform in 1947.

Last year, the Red Cross aided 1,100,000 veterans and their dependents through its Home Service division and smoothed out a total of 5,038,000 problems for servicemen and their dependents. In 1947, the organization will handle claims adjustments for millions of veterans.

"This means the Red Cross, in addition to its tremendous job of handling the problems of veterans and in boosting the morale of servicemen still in our armies of occupation, must keep reserve armies of workers at full strength to handle whatever a Fate that strikes annually with mathematical mercilessness may have in store for the nation in 1947," Mr. Reynolds says.

The Greater Boston campaign for $1,280,000 deserves our support; the money raised may be spent, in part, right here in Arlington, should disaster strike.

THE TOWN CENSUS

All too often, some persons will criticize their government, local, State and Federal, at the drop of a hat. Yet it is amazing to discover that these very same critics will do the least bit that is asked of them to help the government run more smoothly and efficiently.

A case in point is the Town census which was just taken. The Board of Registrars of Voters sent out a corps of assistant registrars to take the census of all persons 20 years of age and over. In cases where no one was at home, a notice was left, informing the occupants that a census taker had called and asking the absentees to telephone the desired information to the Registrars' office. The telephone number was given; only a few minutes of one's time was requested.

When the census was completed, a tabulation showed that in 1800 cases no one was found at home. No one is blamed for that. However, we are told that the vast majority of those notified that the census taker had called, have, up to this week, paid no attention to the notice. It was a reasonable request. Furthermore, the fact that the census had been completed was duly advertised. Our town officials could not be expected to do any more towards getting a complete census.

Undoubtedly, those who have not responded, have been merely thoughtless in the matter. However, their lack of interest creates more work, more expense to the town (which must be paid by the taxpayers) and even invites the possibility of having their names dropped from the voting list. A simple telephone call to the Registrars is all that is requested. If you have not been approached, why not call ARLINGTON 0164 today and help complete the census.

Cutter PTA Board Favors Raise, Too

A meeting of the executive board of the Cutter P. T. A. was held last Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Humphrey Sullivan, 45 Menotomy rd.

It was voted to circulate petitions in the town to ask for an immediate increase in teachers' salaries, in order to bring their remuneration in line with the increased cost of living.

The board voted to send the following letter to the Arlington School Committee:

"The executive board of the Cutter Parent-Teacher Association in the interest and welfare of our children respectfully urge that you, the Arlington School Committee, give all possible consideration to the request of the Arlington Teachers' Association in the matter of salary increase.

"The welfare and happiness of children is directly reflected in the classroom and thus upon the happiness and attitudes of our children."

The NEWS OBSERVES

Despite icy conditions Monday morning followed by a steady rain throughout the day and evening, no serious automobile accident was recorded locally. Motorists, generally, are evidently taking heed of warnings to drive more carefully during the winter months.

Eric H. Hansen, president of the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, 180 Longwood ave., Boston, yesterday announced the opening of its 28 annual poster contest to pupils in all schools. The contest, which is open to pupils in elementary grades above the third and in junior high and high schools, both public and parochial, will close March 1. Those wishing further information with regard to the rules of the contest may obtain it by writing Society headquarters.

The start of The Salvation Army's world-wide "Fighting Faith Crusade" for 1947 was undertaken on Tuesday at a series of evangelistic rallies by Salvation Army officers in corps in 97 countries and colonies around the world. Gen. Albert Orsborn, international leader who visited Boston recently during a tour of the Western hemisphere, conducted a large meeting in London on the opening day to which representatives were sent from this country.

The reason for this spiritual offensive in the words of the General is: "Of all the processes of re-habilitation that are before the world, the most urgent is that of restoring a recognition of and belief in spiritual values. A renewed moral and spiritual atmosphere must be given to the world before any of the programs before man can be launched with any hope of success. I have been amazed to find how many people of rank and influence have completely lost faith in the possibility of redemption of the human race and even the possibility of inner satisfaction for the individual. We must, therefore, set out upon a campaign of thought, of prayer, of planning and of action . . . in order to do our part in an essential redirection and reorganization of human ideas."

Information was released this week by Major Douglas A. McKillop, commanding officer of the Army Recruiting Station at 55 Tremont street, Boston that those men now entering the Army still have the privilege of receiving the family allowances as has been the practice all during the war.

"There have been some misunderstandings and misinterpretations regarding the dependency allowance provisions," said the Major, "that have caused much difficulty. The Armed Forces Recruitment Act of 1946 Guaranteed that these benefits were valid for the duration of the war plus six months. The war has not been officially declared over. The proclamation issued by the President on 1 January, 1947, did not declare the end of the war, but merely eliminated some of the wartime controls that had been established."

Georgia's Governorship Row

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 23.—The present row in Georgia is of important national business significance. Civil war has existed here on the capital grounds between Governor Ellis Arnall, and Herman Talmadge, the son of Eugene Talmadge, the duly elected new Governor, who died shortly before his inauguration. The newly elected Lt. Gov. M. E. Thompson seems to be the "forgotten man". At any rate he is setting the nation a good example in patiently awaiting a decision of the courts.

Ellis Arnall claimed the Governorship due to a clause in the Constitution to the effect that the old Governor remains in office until the new Governor takes office. Hence, he and his cohorts attempted to hold the fort for his friend Thompson. On the other hand, the law provides that if no person (presumably no living person) has received a majority vote, the Legislature may elect a Governor from the two candidates receiving the highest votes.

Anticipating the death of Eugene Talmadge, a group of about 700 friends of young Talmadge wrote in his name on the ballots. Thus, he and his father, Eugene, were the two receiving the highest number of votes. As the father is dead, the son Herman, was the only one whom the Legislature could elect, even though he had received only about 700 votes. It thereupon elected Herman Talmadge as Governor.

Force Versus Law

Both the Arnall businessmen's group and the Talmadge old-time political group have certain legal technicalities in their favor. If Eugene Talmadge had lived a few days longer to become inaugurated and then had died, Thompson would now be Governor. But, due to the fact, that Governor-elect Eugene Talmadge died before he was inaugurated, the politicians, who have run Georgia for many years preceding Arnall's election, grasped an opportunity to get back under the law above mentioned.

Naturally the law-abiding people of the country would like to see Lt. Governor-elect Thompson become Governor, rather than Eugene Talmadge's inexperienced son. On the other hand, the problem is far deeper than who is to be Governor of Georgia for the next four years. The serious part of the situation is that both sides in this conflict have resorted to force. I am not now in Atlanta, but by the last accounts the Talmadge group, by sheer physical force and rowdiness, have taken possession of the capital and are running the government. They merely say that the people wanted Eugene Talmadge to be Governor and young Talmadge will carry his antiquated program, while the new Lt. Governor, would not do so!

Georgia Versus Russia

What is going on in Atlanta today is little different from what has been going on in Europe, Latin America, India and China. The great curse of World War II was the destruction of law and order. In fact, the great struggle ahead of us is: Shall Force or Law Rule. All the world is now turning to force.

In our own country it has been exhibited in the case of strikes, all the way from government employees down to school children.

Yet, in view of the atomic bomb, law and order is the world's only hope today. If the people of Georgia resort to civil war, how can thinking persons believe that the United Nations, made up of hundreds of different races, can successfully function? It is not so much the economic program of Communism, now sweeping Europe, to which thinking people object, as the fact that these Communists resort to force, brutality and rowdiness whether their campaigns are in Warsaw, Rome, Paris, London, Bombay or Shanghai. This determination to use force is frightening businessmen and can easily bring back unemployment and a period of business depression.

The case ultimately must be decided by the Supreme Court. In the interests of Democracy both groups should now peacefully retire from the scene until the Supreme Court renders its decision, both groups doing all they can to hasten rather than delay such a decision, Georgia could get on a few days without any Governor!

The interest this year in the drive to wipe out tuberculosis was very encouraging to members of the Christmas Seal Committee. Mrs. Yood thanked all members of her committee and in particular Mrs. John A. Bishop, treasurer, who spent many hours totaling hundreds of contributions.

Some donations are still being received and as these continue to come in they will be added to the 1946 Seal Sale total.

Citizen's Committee Nominates Officers

At a meeting nominating committee of the Arlington Citizens Committee held on January 5th, the following were recommended for office nomination for 1947:

TEACHERS' RAISE LONG OVERDUE, SAYS P. T. A. COUNCIL

Support Pledged to School Board

several of the PTA meetings. In many cases meetings were called at an earlier hour so that the salary question could be discussed thoroughly.

On Tuesday evening, representatives of the Arlington Teachers' Club met in special session with the School Committee at its Maple st. office to discuss the teachers' request. It is understood that the request is for a $600 annual increase for all teachers.

At the close of the meeting, the School Committee voted to publish the facts and figures concerning the salary situation, as well as a history of teachers' salaries in Arlington and the amount of the increase which the School Board will recommend to the annual town meeting in March. This report is now being prepared and will be made available to the newspapers next week, Superintendent Clifford R. Hall told the NEWS yesterday. The question of equal pay for men and women teachers, which according to law must be voted upon in March, will also be discussed by the School Committee, Superintendent Hall said.

The Council's letter to the school board follows:

"The Arlington Council of Parent-Teacher Associations wishes to offer you its full measure of support in the matter of raising the salaries of the teachers in our town so that they will be comparable to those being paid in other towns and cities of Greater Boston.

"The Council feels strongly that our teachers have demonstrated their loyalty through the war years at a great sacrifice to their personal needs. Living costs have increased for them as well as for the layman.

"No other group of professional people would have stood by under such duress; yet there is no murmur of strike. There is, however, an undertone of unhappiness and discouragement because of the teachers' inability to meet the high cost of living; therefore a breaking down of morale is becoming evident. This state of mind is not conducive to good teaching, and the welfare of our children is at stake.

"Teaching is a fine profession. Young people will not choose it as a vocation if the remuneration continues to be so small that teachers cannot live on it without having to supplement their earnings.

"Again, as parents and citizens, we offer you our support in giving this respected profession the homage now long overdue."

The letter was signed by Antoine S. King, president of the PTA Council.

Typical PTA Endorsements
Typical of the letters from PTA groups forwarded to the School Committee during the past week is the following from the Junior High West PTA Association:

Gentlemen:
The Executive Committee of the Junior High West PTA Association at the meeting held January 20, 1947 unanimously voted to ask the School Committee to take favorable action on the present appeal of the Salary Committee of the Arlington Teachers Association.

Respectfully submitted,
Herber J. Cronin,
Pres., Jr. High West PTA.

The PTA of the School Committee as follows:

Ladies and Gentlemen:
On January 13, 1947 the Parent-Teacher Association voted unanimously that "a letter be sent to the School Committee expressing our earnest desire that the salaries of the teachers of Arlington be raised immediately so that they will be comparable to those paid in other towns and cities around Boston, and enable our teachers to meet the cost of living."

The motion to this effect was made from the floor after a discussion period in which it was brought out that the primary object of this Association is "to promote the welfare of children." It is the considered opinion of this group that the welfare of our children, and therefore, by the future of our town, depends on the quality of teaching maintained in our school system. We cannot hope to hire or hold in our employ well-trained, experienced teachers unless we can compete with surrounding communities in the salaries we offer.

Those who plan Parent-Teacher programs know that mid-winter meetings are not generally well attended, but on January 13th we had the largest attendance we have had at any meeting for some years. This fact indicates that the members of this Association, who were notified that the subject of teachers' salaries would be discussed, recognize the importance of this problem, and in unanimously authorizing this letter are eager to offer you their support as parents and taxpayers, in raising the salaries of the teachers of Arlington.

Very truly yours,
Marjorie Laufman,
President.

Your Public Schools

With the United States now accepted as the leading power, a Number One nation, it might be well to view in retrospect one of the reasons for this top flight position in which we find ourselves. It is, I am sure we will all agree, our democratic educational system, established early in the beginning of this country and before any other nation in the world.

Free to all, through elementary, secondary and often times higher educational institutions, this democratic system gave to the American citizen, the training and ability necessary to raise this country to its present enviable position.

How can we maintain this position of trust which brings with it a mighty responsibility? By understanding and having an active interest in one of the great basic reasons for our supremacy... our public schools and their administration.

Are we maintaining our supremacy in education? Or are we slipping behind other nations and sabotaging our greatest power, our greatest national resource, the free education of our youth?

With statistics at hand which indicate that in this country three million adults of 25 years of age have never gone to school at all; with only 13% completing the fourth grade; with 56% continuing through the eighth grade and 75% of all citizens without a High School diploma, we must admit that our free democratic educational system, the first and for many years the best in the world, is not tended, but on January 13th we had the largest attendance we have had at any meeting for some years. This fact indicates that the members of this Association, who were notified that the subject of teachers' salaries would be discussed, recognize the importance of this problem, and in unanimously authorizing this letter are eager to offer you their support as parents and taxpayers, in raising the salaries of the teachers of Arlington.

Very truly yours,
Marjorie Laufman,
President.

progressing at a necessary rate to maintain a balance of trained citizens.

While we are allowing our educational system to retrogress, other nations have realized the importance of popular education. While we spend only 2% of our national income on the education of our people, Russia, in her economic poverty, spends 20% for education and Great Britain, after a devastating five year war, is using vast resources for the development of a school system far more democratic than ours.

During the war, England, Russia and other nations kept their teacher education students in college, exempting them from the draft because of their importance in post war years.

The United States, with careless abandon, consumed its most needed man power until our colleges were denuded of men ready to enter the teaching profession.

By refusing this profession recompense commensurate with industrial work, many thousands more were lost never to be regained, while women students who might have chosen this career saw a brighter future elsewhere, and Teachers Colleges throughout the war years report a 20% decline in the number of women students, according to a report from the Massachusetts Teachers Federation.

Why are we now in such a dilemma? Why have 350,000 teachers in our country, in the last five years, left their teaching positions? Dorothy Kraus

Brackett School Cubs Mark 10th Birthday

Enthusiasm and pride were the keynotes at the dinner meeting of Boy Scouts Pack 20 Friday night at Brackett school which was attended by more than 250 members and parents and friends.

The program marked the 10th birthday of the Pack which comprises nine dens.

Presentation of a Scout citation to Cub William Meehan for assisting in the rescue of a youth from drowning brought to light the heroism of several other cubs who had also rescued or participated in saving people from drowning.

One of the highlights was the preparation and serving of supper by a group of dads who wore large chef hats and aprons. Eleven boys stood smartly at attention, to receive the award. The program was capped by a candle-light Bob-Cat ceremony. J. Evert Calley, assistant cub master, directed this part of the program. Head table guests included Laurence Arthur, first cub-master of the pack, and Mrs. Arthur; Richard Shaw, Arlington Neighborhood commissioner; James Robeson, former cubmaster, and Mrs. Robeson; Walter Heilman, Melville Road, secretary of the Pack membership committee, and Mrs. Rood; Mrs. Rudolph Regut, former den mother; Henry Bullock, chairman of the Pack committee, and Mrs. Bullock; and Sidney Bowditch, cubmaster.

tion for the gift to the hospital of 60 dozen sheets, 25 dozen pillow cases, five dozen face towels and 12 dozen bath towels.

The oxygen tent and this large quantity of linen could not have been purchased by the Woman's Association without the cooperation of the public. Mrs. Mansfield brought out. She urged continued support, particularly of the Thrift Shop at 25 Myrtle st., Arlington Centre, which is sponsored by the Woman's Aid Association of the Symmes Hospital.

All revenue derived from the sale of household articles and clothing at this shop helps defray the cost of carrying on the association's philanthropic work at the Arlington hospital. The general public can support this cause in two ways, by purchasing merchandise on sale at the shop, and by contributing usable household articles and used, but wearable, clothing. Clothing that can be sold may be left at the Thrift Shop, or those wishing to contribute may call Mrs. Walter T. Chamberlain at ARL 0456 and the clothing, etc., will be called for by Mrs. Mansfield.

The association's work for the hospital benefits the entire community, it was stressed.

Miss Nora Brown, superintendent of the hospital, was hostess at a coffee hour preceding the board meeting.

The U. S. O. Helps

The young veteran's arm hung limp at his side. Doctors and psychiatrists at a local veterans' hospital, where he had come for treatment, were baffled. They were sure he could use his arm, for it wasn't injured. But they could not remove the mental block that kept him from using it.

Then, one night, a USO junior hostess persuaded the disconsolate boy to dance. From that moment, an unlooked-for cure began. The boy was soon able to use his arm again. There are scores of such cases on record that have been helped by the aid of the USO. Gen. Omar N. Bradley, head of the Veterans' Administration, recognizes it when he says, "Not all medicines come from bottles."

Will Request Increased State Aid For Education

The Massachusetts Teachers Federation has announced a program designed gradually to increase the state aid for education from about $6,000,000 to approximately $46,500,000. The Federation will try to bring this program into operation through enactment by the 1947 legislature.

The program is planned to promote the equalization of educational opportunity, to equalize among towns the burden of the cost of school support, and to assure in every town after 1948 the availability of at least $124 per pupil for the support of schools. It is proposed that increased state aid for schools be provided largely from income taxes (with increased rates and amended exemptions), and that this state aid be distributed according to a plan that will give more liberal aid to the poorer than to the wealthier towns, according to need.

The amount of state aid proposed for distribution to the various towns and cities of the state, by the use of a simple equalization formula, is estimated to total about $31,000,000 for 1948 as compared to about $6,000,000 state school aid granted in 1945. For 1949 and thereafter, the Federation's program would step the state total up to an estimated $46,500,000.

The possibilities of procuring a 1947 emergency appropriation of about $15,500,000 for this purpose are being thoroughly investigated. Additional aid of about $1,250,000 is included in the program after 1947 for the transportation of pupils. An estimated $300,000 will be included after 1947 to help support isolated one-room schools where the cost per pupil is very high, to encourage small towns to use consolidated schools, and to promote the organization of more union high schools for pupils of two or more towns.

The total cost of supporting the public schools in Massachusetts for the year 1944-45 was about $77,500,000. Massachusetts has been fourth from the bottom of the 48 states in the proportion of school costs borne by the state. In about half of the states 25% or more of the cost of schools is supplied by the state. In Massachusetts the state now bears less than 8% of the cost of the schools. It is expected that the Federation's program in 1948 would increase that percentage to approximately 35%. The present state aid of about $6,000,000 is provided largely from the proceeds of the income tax, which this year are estimated at $26,000,000. Under the proposed program of increased state aid, it is suggested that the money come largely from the proceeds of the income taxes assessed at increased rates and with amended exemptions.

Extending the period of stepping the total aid from $15,500,000 to $46,500,000 over a term of three years will give an opportunity to devise and to divide new state revenues that will tend to relieve the real estate tax situation. The Federation believes that a good state tax is one (1) that is assessed according to ability to pay; (2) that is economical to collect; and (3) that permits the taxing of wealth, wherever it is, for use in the state wherever it is needed. They believe that the income tax has all of these characteristics. The principal benefits claimed for this program of increased state aid for schools are as follows: (1) It will enable each town and city to pay salaries sufficient to provide a stable supply of adequately qualified teachers. (2) It will aid in checking the recent tendency of real estate taxes to skyrocket. (3) It will assure for every town and city after 1948 the availability of not less than $124 per pupil, net average membership, for the support of schools.

The plan preserves for the local school committees the control of the schools. The Federation will strongly oppose any proposal that will take away any powers of the local school committees.

St. John's Church Elects Officers at Annual Meeting
The annual parish meeting of St. John's Episcopal Church was held a recent evening, the rector, Rev. Halsey I. Andrews, presiding. Reports were received from the rector and from various organizations as follows:

The following were elected: Senior warden, Arthur O. Yeames; junior warden, J. Milton Washburn, Jr.; parish treasurer, Edward A. Richards; assistant treasurer, Mrs. Alanson D. Yeaton; clerk, Chester J. Ginder; auditor, Thomas M. Mott; vestrymen, Richard E. Ambrose, Ralph S. Penton, James Gould, Walter E. Polard. Other vestrymen are John H. Campbell, William D. Elwell, Alfred E. Gorell, Clarence A. Lundquist and William H. Vincent.

Bank Executive Addresses Lions

J. Philip Smith, trust officer and consultant of the Second National Bank of Boston, gave a highly interesting talk on general business conditions and the outlook for 1947 at Monday evening's dinner meeting of the Lions Club at Chestnut Hall.

The best indices, he said, of business prognostication are the New York Times, Barron's, G. E. Powers, U. S. Steel Corp., Moody Stock Prices, Dow-Jones and the stock market, one of the strongest forecasters. The Federal Reserve Board index of industrial production is another strong indicator of conditions, he added.

Mr. Smith was optimistic about the outlook for the current year. A question period followed his talk.

Your Income Tax

By DENIS W. DELANEY

Collector of Internal Revenue

The tax-reduction features of our present revenue law will be clearly evident for the first time in the Federal income tax returns made this year.

The Revenue Act of 1945, applicable to 1946 incomes, contains several provisions that make the reduction effective as they are applied to the normal tax, the surtax, and the credits for both.

While the normal tax of three percent on individuals has been retained for the purpose of a tentative computation, this amount is subject to a flat reduction of five percent.

The surtax on individuals provides for a unit of three percent in each surtax bracket, so that the rate on the first $2000 of taxable income in excess of exemptions is now 17 percent instead of 20, and the maximum stops at 88 where it formerly was 91. In addition to the three percent reductions in each surtax bracket, there is a flat reduction of five percent in the total surtax computed.

Another tax reducing feature of this law is that individuals now are allowed the same exemptions for normal tax as they were allowed for surtax purposes under the previous act.

This means that exemptions of $500 each for the taxpayer, his spouse, and each of his dependents will replace the normal tax of $500 allowed before, and the limited allowance for the spouse of the taxpayer whose gross income is less than $500 and who files a joint return with the other spouse.

The over-all result of these reductions which Congress wrote into the present law will mean a substantial cut in the tax this year compared with what was paid last year on the same income.

For individuals with adjusted gross income of less than $5000, the tax tables provided for determining the tax without going through the computation, have been revised to include all of the reductions, thus for taxable years beginning with 1946 the revised tables provide the correct amount of tax without further computation on the part of the taxpayer.

Under our "pay-as-you-go" system now in effect, part or all of the Federal income tax of most employees has been withheld from wages so that many had their taxes paid by the end of the year. Others who were not kept substantially paid up by the wage withholding made additional payments on the basis of estimated taxes. However, since both of these types of payments were only approximate, it is still necessary to file a return in order to determine the correct amount of tax.

'Living Posters', Annual Report Highlight Girl Scout Meeting

Presentation of awards to Council members who had completed many years of service, an original presentation of the annual report combined with "living posters" depicting Girl Scout activities, and a timely talk by Mrs. James A. Tracey of the Arlington Girl Scouts held in the Robbins Library Hall on Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Roberta B. Norris, commissioner, presided. Service awards were made by Mrs. Justin McCarthy, program chairman. The annual report arranged by Mary E. Leveiro, executive director, was presented by Jean Welsh.

Mrs. Tracey, in her address, described the work being carried on by the national headquarters. She spoke, particularly, of the International Post, Box, whereby Girl Scouts all over the world exchange letters as "Pen Pals." A staff member spends her entire time linking up Girl Scouts pen pals all over the world.

Girl Scouts from many parts of the world will be the guests of the American Girl Scouts at a camp in Pennsylvania next summer, she said, and every country having a Girl Scout program has been invited to send delegates.

Those taking part in the "Living Posters," depicting the Girl Scouts activities were:

Janet Aatken, Carol Alexie, Anita Taylor, Marjorie Cree, Ruth Foley, Janet Aisen, Maria Sheldon, Nancy Adams, Joanne Norris, Lois

The ladies who received awards were:

25 year pins—Mrs. Curtis Waterman, Mrs. James A. Bailey and Mrs. Roberta B. Norris.

20 year pins—Mrs. Charles Pierce.

10 year pins—Mrs. Albert Wunderly, Mrs. Roderick Peters and Mrs. Lewis Beaumont.

5 year pins—Mrs. E. A. Barnard. George Faxon, organist and choirmaster at the Church of the Advent and a member of the faculty of the Long School of Music, will be presented by the school at an open house faculty concert on Tuesday, Jan. 28, at 8:30 p.m., at the Harvard Memorial Church, Harvard University. Mr. Faxon will be heard in works of Bach, Handel, Brahms, Schuman and Liszt, and will also play contemporary American works, among them the Antiphon "Regina Coeli" by Everett Titcomb. Works of contemporary French composers will also be presented. The concert is open to the public.

Club Will Continue Spreading Cheer to Hospitalized Veterans

A letter has been received by Elizabeth Berg, treasurer of Mothers and Wives of World War II Veterans of Arlington Club, from Bedford Hospital, thanking the club for the Christmas boxes sent to all Arlington veterans, saying how much the men appreciated gifts from their own home town.

The club would appreciate the names and addresses of any Arlington veterans now in the hospital, as it plans to continue hospital work during the year. Names to be sent to Mrs. Robert D'Unger, secretary, 92 Egerton road, Arlington.

A short business meeting will be held tonight at 8 o'clock at Arlington Academy of Music, 386 Massachusetts ave., followed by bridge and what at 8:30 for members and friends. Mrs. Margaret Hogan, director, 172 Franklin st., is chairman of the committee, assisted by Mrs. Sara Kane and Mrs. Mae Collins. Proceeds will be used for Easter gifts to Arlington veterans now hospitalized.

CHEER VETS IN HOSPITAL

The purchase of tags by public spirited citizens made it possible for the Lt. Stanley G. Benner unit of the Marine Corps League Auxiliary to fill scores of stockings which were delivered to the boys at Chelsea Naval Hospital on Christmas morning. The Arlington unit expressed its gratitude to all who helped this cause.

Louis Doctoroff, Others Installed

New officers of the Arlington Kiwanis Club were installed at a ceremony combined with a ladies' night in Chestnut hall on Wednesday evening.

A dinner, movies and dancing rounded out the program. Louis Doctoroff, Arlington druggist, was installed president for a second term. Others installed were: Harry T. Fox and Robert Spence, vice-presidents; Maurice Hatch, treasurer; Warren Guild, secretary; Charles Bridges, Elmer Anderson, Lester Cameron, L. Curtis Foye, Herbert D. Stevens, Robert E. LaPorte and Russell Perham, directors.

Al Klauer of Cambridge, lieutenant-governor of the 5th district, installed the officers. New England Governor Everett Penahorn was present and inducted J. W. Garnet, World War II veteran as a new member.

Past international vice-president James Gallagher presented the president with a bond on behalf of the club.

Nationally, the old-age and survivors insurance program has grown from approximately 100,000 beneficiaries in 1940 to a total of more than 1,500,000 beneficiaries who are receiving more than $28,000,000 in benefits every month.

Monthly payments in the Town of Arlington follow:

Wage Earners 412 $11,471.54
Wives 135 2,418.85
Children 157 2,888.45
Aged Widows 104 2,259.49
Current Widows 79 1,867.18

Total 908 $20,350.29
The Cambridge office is beginning its 11th year of service. James T. Phelan is office manager.

Established by the Social Security Act of 1935, the program originally was confined to benefits for qualified wage earners who had reached age 65 and retired from employment in industry and commerce. In 1939, an amendment to the Act added survivors' insurance to the system.

The first local offices were established in various parts of the country in 1936, and by 1939, 327 field offices were functioning. Today, there are 455 offices throughout the nation to give every person access to the free information and services necessary to the program's operation.

It is the local office of the Social Security Administration that processes claims for benefits under the old-age and survivors insurance program. The field office gives all information and assistance needed by workers in employment covered by the Social Security Act in preparing their insurance rights so that they will be able to receive the full benefits they have earned. The specific duties of the local office include the issuance of new and duplicate social security account number cards and assistance to workers in checking on their accounts and getting the accounts put straight where errors have been made.

Over 75,000,000 Benefit Now
The steady growth of the old-age survivors insurance system is reflected in the year by year increase in the number of living workers who have accumulated wage credits toward possible benefits. In the first year—1937—this figure stood at 32,800,000 persons; by 1940 it had increased to 44,800,000; by 1943 to 65,700,000; and 1945 to 73,200,000.

The field office is the point of personal contact of the worker with the agency administering the program under which he is earning insurance rights in employment covered by the Social Security Act. Benefits received through application at the field office are based on wages earned in covered employment, records of which are kept at the Baltimore headquarters of the Bureau of Old-Age and Survivors Insurance.

Our boys are back from the service and we are now able to give you pre-war service on Local and Long Distance Moving Packing, agents for storage.

The "Maine"

In the latter part of January, 1898 the Battleship Maine, then with the fleet off Southern Florida, received orders to proceed to Havana. Capt. Charles D. Sigsbee in his book "The Maine" says of the incident: "My orders were to proceed to Havana and make a friendly visit. I was left to act according to my own judgment in the usual way. It was expected that the Spanish people would prefer that the 'Maine' should stay away; but with a lingering insurrection, the end of which was near in sight, with American interests in Cuba adversely affected, the American citizen alarmed for his safety, the United States had decided to show its flag from a public vessel in Cuban Waters."

The "Maine" arrived in Havana on Jan. 25 and was assigned an anchorage at number 4 buoy. On the night of Feb. 15 Capt. Sigsbee was sitting in his cabin listening to the last notes of "taps" played by Newton the ship's bugler. "The notes," said the captain, "were singularly beautiful in the oppressive stillness of the night." A half hour later Newton was dead. It was just forty minutes past nine when the explosion came. Groping his way from the cabin toward the deck Captain Sigsbee collided with some one coming toward him in the darkness. It was Bill Anthony his marine orderly, who, after exclaiming himself said, in a voice calm and unexcited, "Captain I have to report that the ship is blown up and sinking."

Later when all that could be done under the circumstances had been done and the little band of survivors were gathered on the only part of the deck above water, the captain decided that it was time to leave the doomed vessel. Hands were outstretched to help him into the rescuing boat but the heart-broken Sigsbee who had just lost his ship and 266 of a gallant crew in an unparalleled catastrophe suggested the propriety of him being the last to leave.

News of the disaster was received in the United States with deep feelings of horror and resentment. A report of the Naval Court inquiry cleared officers and crew of any fault or negligence and found that the ship was destroyed by the explosion of a submarine mine which caused the explosion of two or more of the forward magazines. On April 11, 1898, after thirty years of fruitless controversy between the United States and Spain, President McKinley submitted a war message to Congress and in less than two weeks the Navy had begun active operations along the coast of Cuba.

The war which followed included the Cuban, Puerto Rican, and Philippine Insurrection and China Relief Expedition. The islands taken from Spain by an army and navy composed altogether of volunteers established on our eastern seaboard a barricade of friendly neighbor countries that in the Second World War assured the impregnability of our eastern coast and the Panama Canal. It established an outpost in the Philippines and the Pacific Islands that held the Japs impotent at Bataan and Corregidor for many precious months while our home defenses were readied. The late Damon Runyon who enlisted in the Spanish War at 14 and served two years in the Philippines, writing for Kings Syndicate said: "that with the exception of the American Revolution, the Spanish-American War was the most important war of this country. These considerations assure the 'Maine' a unique and permanent place in the history of the United States."

On Saturday evening, Feb. 15, the 49th anniversary memorial service for the dead of the "Maine" will be conducted by the United Spanish War Veterans of Greater Boston. The public is invited to attend.

The state of Idaho is one of the leading states of the Union in the production of sheep and wool. The state of Missouri is rich in minerals, most valuable of which are coal and zinc and lead ore.
